

Introduction to Watercolor Painting Class, 3-Hours

Sunday, April 11, 2-5 pm

With Beth Bale, watercolor artist

Watercolor artist Beth Bale will be teaching an introductory watercolor painting class at Pittsboro Gallery of Arts in Pittsboro on Sunday, April 11, 2 pm until 5 pm. This single-class event will provide students with the opportunity to try their hand at the basic techniques of watercolor painting, such as wet-into-wet painting, dry brush, mixing colors, and use of various brush types. Students will paint a small original painting of their own during class.

Paints, paper, palettes and brushes will be supplied. Students will be responsible for other supplies such as a water container, tape and pencil. (The supply list will be provided to students prior to class.) This class gives students an idea whether they enjoy the medium of watercolor and perhaps see if they wish to take the upcoming series of beginner classes.

Beth is a member of Chatham Artists Guild, Sanford Brush and Palette Club and is a signature member of the Watercolor Society of NC. She has won awards from WSNC, Chatham Artists Guild and Sanford Brush and Palette Club for her watercolor paintings of nature and animals in a colorful and loose style, with focus on light and shadow. Beth will teach students to paint with freedom and fun, with a no-pressure style that helps students find their own styles and preferences. See her work at Pittsboro Gallery of Arts, on her website at www.bethbale.com, on Facebook at Beth Bale Fine Art or on Instagram at Beth Bale Fine Art. Contact her at bethbale@windstream.net with any questions.

Students need to register for the class at Pittsboro Gallery of Arts, 44-A Hillsboro Street, Pittsboro, NC 27312, or call them at 919-704-8552. Class size is limited to 8 students, so register early to secure your space in the class.
